BEHRING SEA AFFAIR

Exact Status of the Questions in Dispute.

NO PROTECTION FOR THE SEALS.

Lord Salisbury's Actions Considered Very Disrespectful to Our Government—He is Trying to Make Himself Solid with the Tory Government.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—A great many inquiries are being received from different parts of the country daily as to the exact status of the Behring sea dispute. It appears that few persons can get an intelligent idea of the case or learn just how it stands at present.

When, some time ago, the Canadian poachers began to kill the seal in the open sea, beyond the three-mile limit from shore lines, and our sailors began to arrest the intruders and run in their vessels, a correspondence was entered into between this and the British government with a view of permanently settling questions which had been in dispute for many years regarding the catch of seal and boundary lines of governmental territory. It was finally agreed that the whole matter should be left to arbitration, and a large arbitration board was selected from various countries. This agreement for arbitration had to be ratified by the United States senate and the British government by treaty.

That document is now under consideration of our senate. Pending the ratification of the treaty by the law-making powers of the governments agreeing to arbitration, and also pending arbitration itself, an agreement, known as a modus vivendi, was entered into, which limited the catch of seal in the open sea and preserved the status quo of the case. A few days ago Lord Salisbury, the premier of the British government, abrogated that modus vivendi just as President Harrison was getting ready the correspondence which was to accompany the treaty to our senate.

No Agreement.

Under the present condition of affairs there is no agreement, mutual or otherwise, which preserves our interests in the open Behring sea, except the very old general treaty, and also the law which was entered into at the time we purchased Alaska of Russia. It is believed that after Lord Salisbury has indulged in a little bluster for home consumption, he will renew the modus vivendi or enter into an arrangement equivalent to it and that arbitration will proceed. Meanwhile it is expected that our senate will ratify the arbitration treaty.

Trying to Get Solid.

The action of Salisbury is considered very disrespectful toward our government, and is intended to solidify himself with the Tory government and the ultra anti-American element in England.

If Salisbury refuses to renew the modus vivendi or enter protest against the extermination of the seal interests it is expected that congress will adopt additional measures looking toward the arrest of unlawful poaching in the open Behring sea, and that the courts or arbitration will be resorted to for a determination of the law in question. It is contended by our government that the open Behring sea is not neutral ground to the extent of permitting the destruction of interests therein belonging to this country especially.

England's Bluff.

The Behring sea matter is, of course, a subject of discussion among officials and attaches of the state department. Sir Julian Pauncefote did not visit the department yesterday, and it was stated that no communication had been received from the British government direct or indirect to indicate the tone of Lord Salisbury's reply to the note of the 8th inst. In official circles, departmental and congressional, there was expressed a desire, in sporting parlance, to "call England's bluff," the opinion being generally held in agreement with that expressed in Mr. Phelps' letter to Secretary Bayard, viz: "There need be no fear but that a resolute stand on this subject will at once put an end to the mischief complained of. It is not to be reasonably expected that Great Britain will either encourage or sustain her colonies in conduct which she herself concedes to be wrong, and which is detrimental to her own interest as well as ours."

The President Satisfied.

President Harrison and J. W. Foster, who in the absence of Secretary Blaine, is assisting the president in conducting the correspondence with Great Britain, read with much interest the dispatches of the United Press portraying the feeling in London in favor of a jingo policy on the Behring sea matter. It is said the president is content with the situation as far as it has developed, and is satisfied that he will be loyally supported by congress and the people in maintaining the rights of the United States. The officials appreciate the political exigency that doubtless impels Lord Salisbury to take the position implied by his refusal to extend the modus vivendi. An approaching general election in Great Britain, and Lord Salisbury's natural desire to win are sufficient to explain that; but is believed that not even that consideration will be sufficient to lead the government to enter into a contest with the United States over an issue which, as Mr. Phelps says, they concede to be wrong and indefensible.

It is apparent that the language attributed to The St. James Gazette that the paper is not accurately informed of the position of the English government, for which it essays to speak, or else is deliberately indulging in misstatements. The Gazette says the thing to do is to let the sealing go on as usual and refer the question of damage, if any ensues, to the arbitrators for settlement. Aside from the fact that such a course would soon result in having nothing substantial left to arbitrate, it may be stated that the question of damages is precisely the point that Lord Salisbury declined to submit to arbitration and which the United States desired to include. Salisbury refused to attach to it any responsibility for the actions of the poaching sealers.

A Senator's Views.

Inquiry at the Capitol revealed the fact that in its present shape and under present conditions the treaty will hardly be ratified. Said one senator: "I am in favor of calling England's bluff. She won't fight, and I am not in favor of asking her to arbitrate as to a right claimed by us which she has been and is persistently violating. There is no excuse for any one not knowing to what country the seals in the north Pacific and Behring sea belong. The seals on the Russian side, living in warmer water, have thinner fur than those frequenting the rookeries on the American shores and are worth 10 per cent. less. Any one who kills a seal, even in mid-ocean, knows to what country it belongs. They can be identified just as easily as a fleet of boats carrying the United States flag, and there would be just as much sense in a proposition to arbitrate our right to protect those boats from destruction as there is in the proposition to arbitrate these seals."

An English Canadian's Views.

An English Canadian view of the situation of some interest was given last night by Mr. Goldwin Smith, formerly regius professor of history of Oxford university, England, now a resident of Toronto, Canada. For some weeks past Professor Goldwin Smith has been staying in this city giving little Sunday breakfasts at Wornley's to a distinguished inner circle, and generally, as it is understood, exerting his influence to promote the Butterworth-Wiman plan of Canadian reciprocity. But in speaking informally of the situation arising out of the Behring sea controversy he was remarkably frank. He said the policy stated to have been enunciated by Senator Frye in executive session, and put into shape by the Morgan bill, to exclude Canadian goods from free transit in bond across the territory of the United States, if rigorously enforced, would bring Canada to terms inside of three weeks, and would dispose of all this sealing business in short order.

Great Britain had no interest in the continuation of the destruction of the seal. On the contrary all her interests ran the other way, as she had the preparation of all the seal skins, and the sudden cessation of that industry would throw 5,000 men out of employment in London alone. Canada herself had no very great interest in the matter except a few Nova Scotians at long range, and the British Columbians of Vancouver, who were reaping a rich harvest out of it. But the Dominion of Canada, as such, had immeasurably less interest in the seal question than it had in preserving its privilege of transshipping goods in bond through United States territory, especially during the period when their own ports were frozen up.

But Mr. Goldwin Smith appeared to doubt the sincerity of any New England senator, who by word of mouth only urged this policy of retaliation. New England railroads, now that the Grand Trunk railroad had practically terminated in New York, were largely interested in keeping up the bonding privilege, and Minnesota and other states north of Chicago, found the short line thus made practicable of immense advantage to them. Therefore he doubted if any serious attempt to carry out the retaliation policy suggested would really be made. There was too much politics involved in the situation for the administration to sanction a policy of retaliation which would hurt any state.

In further conversation Mr. Smith expressed a reasonable fear that foolish talk on both sides might develop a jingoism which it would be hard to suppress.

Such is Circumstantial Evidence.

MONMOUTH, Ills., March 11.—Fred Staley returned to his home in this city last fall after an absence of some years in Kansas. Wednesday he read in a newspaper that two of his former companions in Kansas had been indicted for the murder of himself (Staley) and at once started to go as a witness in their favor. The young men were last seen with him, and it is supposed were indicted on circumstantial evidence, he having told no one of his intention to leave Kansas.

Conductor and Brakeman Killed.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 11.—There was a bad wreck on the Big Four railroad about 4:30 Thursday morning between two westbound freight trains just west of Acton, Ind., about twelve miles east of this city. The first train had come to a standstill, and before the rear train could be stopped it crashed into the caboose of the first train. The engine of the rear train was badly wrecked and Conductor McGill and Brakeman Myers were instantly killed.

Going to Fill Strikers' Places.

RICHMOND, Ind., March 11.—A gang of fifty machinists passed through here yesterday morning en route for Indianapolis, where they intend filling the places in the Pennsylvania shops there, made vacant by the recent strike. They came from Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburg, and today they will be followed by another gang of about the same number.

A Girl Stolen.

SUMMERTOWN, Pa., March 11.—Katie Pfleger, the adopted daughter of Jacob Kooser, was called from school by a young man of eighteen Wednesday and forced into a carriage by two women accompanying him, who drove off at a rapid rate, afterward boarding a train for Norristown. It is believed the abduction was planned by a relative whom the child had not seen for eleven years.

WHEAT AND CORN.

Statistical Report from the Agricultural Department.

DISTRIBUTION FOR MARCH.

The Stock of Wheat in Growers' Hands 170,000,000 Bushels, Which is the Largest Reserve Ever Reported—The Same Can Be Said About Corn.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The March report of distribution of wheat and corn by the statistician of the department of agriculture makes the stock of wheat in growers' hands 170,000,000 bushels, 18 per cent. of the crop—63,000,000 of spring wheat and 108,000,000 of winter wheat, much of the latter in states which have practically no commercial distribution, but entering into local consumption for bread and seed. This is the largest reserve ever reported, that of the largest previous crop (of 1884) being 169,000,000 bushels.

The exports from July 1 to March 1 were 164,000,000 bushels, the fall seed 36,000,000 bushels, the consumption apparently 200,000,000 bushels, but a large proportion is taken for consumption in the fall and winter, and the actual consumption is proportionally greater than in the spring and summer.

The assumed consumption from March 1, 1891, to March 1, 1892, is 300,000,000 bushels for a population of 64,300,000, the exports 206,000,000 bushels, the seed 56,000,000 bushels, a distribution of 532,000,000 bushels. With 41,000,000 visible and 171,000,000 invisible stocks, there are 27,000,000 bushels not directly accounted for previously, which came in the unprecedented squeezing of all sorts of reserves, mainly from the always uncounted stocks of flour between mill and mouth, and from small uncounted stocks between the farmer's granary and the "visible supply."

The average weight of wheat is 58.5 pounds per measured bushel and which is the estimated weight of the crop of 1887, and is 9.1 of a pound above the average of eight previous years.

The estimated quantity of corn in farmers' hands is 860,000,000, or 41.8 per cent. of the crop. This is the largest proportion ever reported, that of 1889 excepted, which was 45.9 per cent., or 970,000,000 bushels. The seven principal states have a surplus of 546,000,000, or 41.5 per cent. of their product, against 667,000,000 from the great crop of 1889.

The proportion merchantable is the largest ever reported—88.5 per cent. against 85.7 two years ago. The average of eight previous crops is 82 per cent., and the lowest average 60, for the frosted crop of 1883. The present average farm price of merchantable corn is thirty-nine and two-tenths cents per bushel; of unmerchantable, twenty-five and seven-tenths.

CHAMPION EGG EATERS.

One Man Sucks Thirty-Seven—Another Three Dozen Soft-Boiled.

LYNN, Ind., March 11.—Robert Henderson, a barber of this city, is the champion egg-sucker. Last Saturday evening, while in a restaurant here, Mr. Henderson stated he could suck twenty hen eggs. Twenty-one eggs were bought by the crowd, two of them having two yolks, and five duck eggs, the remaining ones hen eggs. Mr. Henderson sucked the entire lot and called for more. An additional sixteen were bought, and Henderson succeeded in sucking the entire number, making in all thirty-seven eggs.

Challenges Anybody.

VEVAY, Ind., March 11.—There was an egg-eating contest between G. S. Lozier and Newton Short for a prize of $20, Mr. Lozier coming out winner by eating three dozen soft-boiled eggs in five minutes. Mr. Lozier challenges any one to another egg-eating contest for a bet of $200.

Indiana's Delegates to Minneapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 11.—The Republican state convention to select four delegates at-large to the national Republican convention at Minneapolis was held here yesterday. The following named were chosen: Colonel Richard W. Thompson, of Terre Haute, by acclamation; ex-Congressman Stanton J. Peele, of Indianapolis; N. T. DePauw, of New Albany, and C. F. Griffin, ex-secretary of state, of Hammond. Resolutions were adopted indorsing the national administration and pledging the Indiana delegation for President Harrison at Minneapolis.

Tragedy Caused by Love.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 11.—At 1 o'clock yesterday morning Herman Krouse tried to murder his sweetheart, Margaret Conrad, and, believing that her injuries would prove fatal, placed the muzzle of his revolver in his own mouth and killed himself. The affair occurred at Henry Bussey's hotel, where both were boarding. Miss Conrad is a sister of the landlady and had several times rejected a proposal of marriage from Krouse. Miss Conrad was wounded in the head, but will probably recover.

All Up with Bob Musgrave.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 11.—Bob Musgrave, the famous life insurance swindler, has been denied a new trial by Judge Taylor, of the circuit court, and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. His attorney has given notice of appeal to the supreme court.

Strike Likely to Spread.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 11.—The strike of the employes in the Pennsylvania Railroad company's shops here, which began three weeks ago, now seems likely to affect the entire system. But thirteen men are at work here.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE.

The Commissioners Will Soon Take a Southern Trip.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Interstate commerce commissioners have arranged to spend several days in Cincinnati, arriving there on April 1. The complaint will be heard of the freight bureaus of Cincinnati and Chicago against a large number of railroads, the principle allegation made being unreasonable preference of eastern merchants in rates on shipments of merchandise and manufactured articles to points in the southern territory. Also Charles H. Brownell, in which petition is made for lower car load classification of eggs. The case of E. C. Frank & Company, against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company, involving long and short haul rates in leaf tobacco will also come up; also that of the Gerke Brewing company, of Cincinnati, against the same company, and others for unreasonable rates and greater charge for shorter haul on beer.

On the 28th of March the interstate commerce commission will be in Chattanooga, when they will hear the case brought by the Chattanooga board of trade against the Queen and Crescent roads, in which discrimination is alleged in favor of Cincinnati against Chattanooga.

Nashville will be visited by the commission on the 30th of March. The cases to be heard there involve the question of unlawful charges on coal to Nashville by the Knoxville and Nashville Railroad company, and another originating at Russellville, Ala., brought by Gourtee & Company, charging relatively unreasonable rates in iron ore to Tennessee.

The case of the Potter Manufacturing company, of Lansing, Mich., against the Chicago and Grand Trunk, and connecting lines with the Pacific coast in regard to rates on finished and unfinished furniture will be heard in this city by the interstate commerce commission on the 8th of April.

PUTTING UP THE MONEY.

There May Yet Be a Fight Between Sullivan and Corbett.

NEW YORK, March 11.—James Wakeley, acting on instructions from Charley Johnson, of Brooklyn, John L. Sullivan's backer, who is now at the Arkansas Hot Springs, yesterday posted $2,500 with the New York World and issued a challenge on behalf of Sullivan to fight any white man in the world during the first week in September. Johnson demands stakes of $10,000 a side and will agree to fight before the club that will give the largest purse, the California Athletic club barred, with Queensbury rules to govern.

It is thought that Sullivan bars the California club in deference to James J. Corbett, who has declared that he would not fight in that club, and who has challenged Sullivan after having deposited $1,000. Corbett has announced his intention of adding $1,500 to the $1,000 he has up, and accepting Sullivan's offer. The first man who covers the Sullivan money before Wednesday, however, will be entitled to the match, according to Johnson's terms. The Olympic and Athletic clubs of New Orleans, have already offered $25,000 for a fight between Corbett and Sullivan.

Antics of a Lunatic.

BRADFORD, Pa., March 11.—Julian Hamjok, aged thirty, of New York, who has been employed as a domestic in this city recently became mentally unbalanced. The city authorities yesterday put her in charge of the conductor on the New York train to take her home. When the train reached the Carrollton (N. Y.) junction the girl imagined the passengers in the waiting room wanted to rob her. She threw her pocketbook, containing $93 in cash and a bank book showing a deposit of $300 in a New York bank, into the car stove and burned them. She then jumped from the train and fled down the tracks. She was overtaken and brought back to Bradford on the midnight train.

Narrow Escape from Death.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon fire was discovered in a dwelling house at 236 East Twenty-ninth street. A nurse girl named Kate Nobok, who had two children named Burns, aged four and six years, under her charge, threw them out of a fourth-story window and then jumped out herself. All were badly injured. The fire was extinguished without much damage to the building.

After the Biscuit Trust.

CHICAGO, March 11.—The Whisky and Cordage trusts having received the attention of the department of justice, the next move to be made will be against the Biscuit trust. The district attorney was engaged yesterday in looking up some facts in connection with the combine under the name of the American Biscuit and Manufacturing company, an Illinois corporation.

Mrs. Blaine, Jr., Improving.

NEW YORK, March 11.—At the New York hotel this morning it was reported that the condition of Mrs. James G. Blaine, Jr., who was taken seriously ill Wednesday, was slightly improved. She is still a very sick woman, and no one but her physician is allowed in her room.

Sarah Althea Terry Insane.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—Mrs. Sarah Althea Terry was adjudged insane yesterday, and committed to the Stockton insane asylum.

Plead Guilty.

ALTOONA, Pa., March 11.—Elmer Bruner, who is being tried at Ebensburg for the murder of Samuel Reese, has entered a plea of guilty.

Blaine Much Better.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Continued improvement is reported in the condition of Secretary Blaine. He is still in bed, but has no fever.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

FRIDAY, MARCH 11, 1892.

It is announced that Senator Hill will speak at but one point on his Southern trip, and that at Jackson, Miss. It wouldn't help his cause along for him to read too many addresses.

VIEWING the judicial redistricting from one standpoint, the Bowling Green Times concludes that "it is a miserable pity there can not be a district arranged for every two-for-a-penny lawyer who wants to be Circuit Judge."

Will the Democrats of the State of New York kindly take notice that the Republicans seem to be carrying it?—Cincinnati Enquirer.

What's the matter with the Enquirer's idol? Doesn't Senator Hill carry the Empire State in his vest pocket?

At the last State election in Washington, Seattle was carried by the Republicans by 1,300 majority. In the municipal election this week the Democratic nominee for Mayor won by 800 majority. This is an off-set for the Republican victory at Rochester, N. Y.

REPRESENTATIVE MYERS, of Covington, in his speech on the Geobel Lottery bill, devoted his time to discussing, or "cussing," a couple of Kentucky editors instead of arguing the question in point. The mistake he made was in paying any attention at all to the two men in question.

It is now stated that the reason the lotteries can not be prosecuted in the Criminal Court is because the city has granted license to the policy shops.—Louisville Post.

Maysville granted license to an agent of one of the lottery companies not long since, but that didn't prevent the Circuit Court from promptly fining the man for running the lottery.

MAYSVILLE people didn't have to go to the opera house last evening to witness "a breezy time." Old Boreas gave a free show all through this section. He made it lively right along. There were no waits between acts. His play was not enjoyed as much, however, as the entertainment at the opera house.

A BILL was introduced in the Legislature this week to create the office of Inspector of Oil. It has not passed either branch of the General Assembly yet, but two Covington citizens are already candidates for the proposed "soft snap." Covington's name ought to be changed to Hogtown. She's a suburb of Porkopolis, as it is.

CINCINNATI pays $144 per light a year for her electric light. Bay City, Mich., owns her own plant, and her 142 are lights of 2,000 candle power cost $6,837.29 last year, about $48 per light. The Cincinnati Post is fighting the light monopolies of the Queen City, and gives the above interesting information to its readers.

INDIANA and Texas Republicans lead off with instructions for Harrison. In the former State there was some opposition in the convention to the President, but the kickers were not numerous enough to prevent his endorsement. General Alger and other aspirants will soon find they are not in it this year. Indications point to Harrison's unanimous renomination.

The establishment of new manufacturing enterprises in Maysville would not only greatly benefit the city and her people, but all the surrounding country would reap some advantage from it. In Massachusetts land in non-manufacturing counties is worth only three-fifths as much as land in counties where factories are located. The same is true elsewhere. In New York, farm land in manufacturing districts is worth twice as much as that in districts not blessed with factories. The difference in Delaware and Pennsylvania is still greater. The farmers of the surrounding country are very much interested in the industrial growth of Maysville. If they can do anything to help our city along, it will be to their advantage to do it. What a great thing it would prove for all concerned, if this city could only be made a tobacco manufacturing center.

Judge Deming for Delegate-at-Large.

Robertson County Republicans, in mass meeting this week, selected J. W. Zoller, Robert Buckler and W. C. Deming as delegates to attend the State convention in Louisville on the 30th inst. The only instructions given were for Judge O. S. Deming, for delegate from the State-at-Large to the National convention.

In the Tilden-Hays contest Judge Deming was the Republican nominee for elector from this district. In 1879 he was the Republican nominee for Lieutenant Governor. He has served Robertson County as Judge, and is admired by his many friends for his successful career as business man and lawyer.

JUDGE HOLT.

He is Soliciting Democratic Support in His Race for Re-election— "Limbor Jim Methods."

Democrats, lend us your ears. Don't lose any sleep about National politics so far as Kentucky is concerned, for her Electoral College will be as it ever was and no amount of work and worry can make it different. But keep your eyes wide open on the approaching race for Judge of the Court of Appeals.

Judge Holt, one of the deepest dyed Republicans in the State, wants to be re-elected. He is a candidate, subject to the action of his party, of course; but he has already begun his crusade for Democratic support. We have read at least one letter from him to a well-known Democrat of this city, asking his support, and it is reasonably certain that he will try the old racket of '84 by which he secured the seat he now holds on the Appellate bench. He owes his election to the Democrats who voted for him in '84, but since then the weather has never been too hot or too cold, or too wet or dry, for him to come up from Frankfort to this city, where he claims his citizenship, to vote against a Democratic nominee.

Judge Holt's success in 1884 was due largely to local causes which brought about dissension in the Democratic ranks, aggravated by a "bar" of money, which, according to popular belief, was given him for use in the race, by a corporation well able to spare it. But while the "bar" might easily be put on tap again, and doubtless will, Judge Holt will find that there is no cause for dissension now in the Democratic party of this Appellate district and that Democracy means something more than catering to his limber-jim methods of vote-getting. He had just as well make up his mind now to pull off his coat and roll up his breeches for he will certainly find "that Jordan am a hard road to trample."

The record of "Judge Holt not sitting" in cases that might affect his political interests will count for naught; the goal of his ambition cannot be reached again through the bone-yard of the unfortunate occurrences of the past; and if his "bar" and gall can't save him, he is doomed to political death and dust. The erstwhile Democratic worshiper of this Republican idol, so far as we know, has forsaken the pagoda of Holt idolatry and returned to the Democratic fold.—Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat.

Railway News.

One electric company equipped sixty-three street railways last year, the greatest number ever equipped by any company in one year.

General Passenger Agent Charles O. Scull, of the Baltimore and Ohio, has inaugurated a reform that all other roads should adopt. In a recent letter to some of his subordinates, he said: "Arrangements have been made with General Manager Odell to telegraph to my office an official account of all accidents to passenger trains that may happen on any portion of the B. and O. system. The account sent to my office by the General Manager will give all the facts reported from the scene of the accident. I will have a duplicate of the General Manager's account telegraphed from my office direct to you as soon as possible after its receipt at Baltimore, and when you are called upon for information by newspaper reporters, or by relatives of friends of parties traveling upon the train to which the accident occurred, you can give the information in full. So many sensational statements secure publication in leading papers throughout the country that have no foundation in fact, that it is my desire to supply newspapers with complete and reliable information upon these subjects."

Fertilize the Orchards.

The drain upon the soil of an orchard is represented in each crop of fruit. Few growers seem to realize that their trees should be fertilized to replace those elements removed from the soil in the fruit. The orange growers have found it impossible to raise good crops of oranges without fertilizing, and this lesson must be learned by all fruit-growers. Some of the most productive groves in Florida were made so by penning cattle in the groves at night, but this mode has its objections in that it requires the trees to be trimmed too high.

An apple orchard yielding 250 bushels per acre should receive each spring, as soon as the frost is out of the ground, 25 pounds of nitrogen, 20 pounds of phosphoric acid and 65 pounds of potash. This mixture should be sown over the surface, and is applicable to other fruits as well as to apples.

Those who will take the trouble to fertilize their orchards will be repaid with an increased yield of superior quality.—Industrial American.

Neuralgia Cured in Fifteen Minutes.

Mr. J. S. Sturtevant, editor of the Waupaca (Wis.) Post, says: "Last night Chamberlain's Pain Balm cured my wife of neuralgia of the face and tooth in fifteen minutes. We would not be without it." Fifty-cent bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds.

Religious News.

A three-weeks revival at Jackson, O., resulted in one hundred accessions to the church.

Rev. John I. Rogers was in town Monday on his way to Concord to hold a meeting in the Christian Church.

The meeting conducted by Rev. H. C. Morrison at Newport closed with about thirty additions to the M. E. Church, South.

The protracted meeting in the Main Street Christian Church of Lexington closed with forty-five additions to the membership.

Between twenty-five and thirty members have been added to the First Baptist Church of Lexington, during a revival now in progress.

A convention of the Kentucky Presbyterians will be held in Warren Memorial Church at Louisville on the 15th and 16th inst. The gathering is in the interest of Presbyterian Church Extension in the State.

An exchange says: "The aggregate of the capital controlled by 2,018 Jewish merchants in New York is estimated at $207,388,000. In Wall street the growing consequence of the race as bankers and brokers has excited Christian jealousy for many years past; and now Dr. Wheatley puts their available capital there at $100,000,000. Their holdings of real estate in New York city are estimated at from $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 and five-eighths of the transfers are said to be for their account."

For the Farmer.

The Winchester Democrat reports wheat looking very well. The crop is doing well in this county also.

Carpenter Brothers, of Carlisle, bought Ben. G. Paton's crop of tobacco amounting to 12,297 pounds, at 10 cents. It was grown on six and a half acres.

Says the Carlisle Mercury: "John B. Fitzgerald has twenty-one lambs that is the produce of ten sheep, and he is raising three of them by hand."

B. A. Wallingford, of this city, paid Reuben Martin, of Brown County, 13½ cents all round for his crop of tobacco. He has bought a good deal of tobacco in that county.

A Christian County farmer, it is reported raised 175,000 pounds of tobacco last year and sold the whole crop at 6 cents a pound all around. This is thought to be the largest crop ever produced by one man in Kentucky.

In "Navin's Work on Poultry" he gives a test made by A. T. Newell, of Philadelphia, Pa., who says: "Pullet eggs, or those which will produce pullets, are smooth on the ends, while those which produce the roosters have a zig-zag mark or quirl on one end. In selecting 200 for roosters, only one produced a pullet; and out of fifty for pullets he got fifty pullets."

Average Deaths Per Day.

[Popular Science.]

The annual mortality of the entire human race amounts, roughly speaking, according to a French medical journal, to 33,000,000 persons. This makes the average deaths per day over 91,000, being at the rate of 3,730 an hour, or sixty-two people every minute of the day and night the year round. A fourth of the race die before completing their eight year, and one-half before the end of the seventeenth year, but the average duration of life is about thirty-eight years. Not more than one person in a hundred thousand lives to be a hundred.

The more promise of life a man has, the more he needs religion.

There is no such thing as living in downright earnest without religion.

The only idea some people have about religion is that it is a good thing to have on a death bed.

No one can be thoroughly alive without the divine impulse that religion can generate within him.

You might as well talk of enjoying life to the fullest extent without good health as of being happy without religion.

To become religious does not mean to lose the joys you already possess, but to exchange them for higher, fuller and more blessed ones.

THE GOEBEL BILL.

More Lottery Talk in the Legislature Yesterday—Proceedings of the General Assembly

The House adopted a resolution yesterday morning calling upon the Auditor to state by what authority a policeman is employed on the State House square at a salary of $60 per month.

The Goebel Lottery bill came up again at 10:30. Several speeches followed for and against it. Mr. Bennett, of Greenup, opened up the debate, speaking for the substitute, and denouncing the bill. He ridiculed the penalties pronounced in the bill against gift enterprises and bitterly arraigned it for its alleged harsh and unreasonable penalties.

Mr. May followed Mr. Bennett, speaking for the original bill. He said the substitute was only a subterfuge, and that if its true inwardness could be seen, it was just what the lottery sharks wanted.

Mr. Bashaw, of Henry County, was opposed to the bill. He said he had weighed the matter carefully and was in favor of the substitute.

Mr. Whitaker, of Covington, followed Mr. Bashaw. He also favored the substitute. He thought the Goebel bill was a direct stroke at the bill of rights. The State had given vested and property rights to a business which this bill now proposed to destroy and confiscate without a hearing before any tribunal.

Representative Halbert, of Lewis, spoke for the bill Wednesday. He is reported to have said that he believed in an extreme penalty, and that if putting the offenders in the penitentiary did not stop the lotteries he was in favor of hanging them.

The correspondent of the Covington Commonwealth says: "There was a big crowd in the lobby yesterday. Among those present was a Covington editor who, on Wednesday, was treated to a roasting by Mr. Myers. No challenges for a duel have as yet passed, unless sent as previously by telegraph, and mysteriously lost on the route."

The bill changing the time of holding County Court in Bracken will be reported favorably.

The Frankfort correspondent of the Courier-Journal says: "The Senate General Statutes Committee will report favorably with amendments the chapter of the Revisory Commission's report on 'Attorneys.' The bill as it now stands will, it is estimated, cut off the Commonwealth's Attorneys at least one-third. They now receive a salary of $2,500. Under this bill they receive a salary of $500 and 30 per cent. of the fines. It is estimated that the pay of the Commonwealth's Attorneys throughout the State will not, under the bill, average more than $1,800 per annum."

Six bills passed and signed by the Governor in seventy days is the record of this legislative session so far. For the same length of time two years ago more than 300 new measures had run the gauntlet.

The Louisville Times correspondent says: "Nicknames are all the go now. Senator McCain, of Tobacco bill fame, is now known as 'Nicotine Joe.' Hon. R. K. Hart, author of the Oil Inspector measure, as 'Coal Oil Rolla,' and Captain Steven Bailey, formerly of Vicksburg, as 'Faro Steve.' Dr. Frazee is called 'Big Medicine,' and Jerry O'Meara 'Bantie.'"

Following is the text of Representative Whitaker's bill to amend the revenue laws:

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky: § 1. That right and power is hereby vested in the Commonwealth to institute and maintain its action to recover all taxes which may have heretofore accrued to the Commonwealth, or which may hereafter accrue, and which can not be collected by the ordinary method of distraint and sale. Said suits may be instituted in courts of equity jurisdiction for the purpose of enforcing the State's lien on property which, for any reason, can not be sold, or for the purpose of subjecting intangible property which can not be otherwise subjected.

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions hereof are repealed.

§ 3. Whereas, there is a large amount of taxes due the Commonwealth, for the collection of which there is no legal remedy; and whereas, the statute of limitation is running against the same, and owing to the length of time that may elapse before the passage of a general revenue law, an emergency is hereby declared; therefore, this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

"Uncle" Jack Hook's Challenge.

An Enquirer special from Lexington says: "The owner of the three-year-old filly Annorean, A. J. Hook, challenges Ralph Wilkes and Chimes Girl for a match of mile heats, three in five, to be trotted at the Lexington Breeders' meeting next fall for $1,000 or $1,500 a corner, as the Eastern men may select; $500 forfeit to be posted with either Ed. A. Tipton or President P. P. Johnson, of the Lexington Association. Mr. Hook has already put up his forfeit in Mr. Tipton's hands. Last year Annorean took a record of 2:20 1/4 in a race, and won nine out of thirteen contests, a record unapproached by any other two-year-old trotter. She is by Cyclone, dam by Twilight, and her owner thinks she is as good as anybody's three-year-old."

It is claimed that W. B. Walker, of Boyle County, has a turkey nine months old that weighs thirty-nine pounds, and Thomas Prewitt one twenty months old that weighs forty-two pounds. They are of the bronze variety.

BEING compelled to give up their store room about the first of March, W. L. Thomas & Brother have made a still further reduction in their prices and are now offering any thing in their immense stock at prices never before offered in this market.

ONE of the most delightful entertainments of the season was "A Breezy Times," at the opera house last night. It was first class in every respect throughout, and all who attended were well pleased. If the company will play a return engagement, they will no doubt be greeted by a packed house.

THE weather yesterday was in striking contrast to that of the corresponding day last year. March 10th, 1891, was warm and pleasant, a lovely day. The nice weather on the 10th, however, was followed by a hard snow storm on 13th and on the 14th and 15th the temperature was down within sixteen degrees of zero.

Says the Winchester Democrat: "The marriage of Charles Lambert, of Cumberland, Maryland, and Miss Fannie Davis, of Maysville, will take place in a few months. The bride visited friends here last summer, and is well known to many of our people. The Central Hotel, of that city, has been engaged for the wedding, which will be a very swell affair."

THE Isaac Sandusky farm of 370 acres, near Millersburg, has been sold by the Deering Machine Company, of Chicago, to Dr. I. R. Best and Henry Mastin, at $63 per acre. They pay $6,000 cash, and the balance in seven annual payments. Mr. Mastin has been a tenant on the place for several years. He formerly resided near Fern Leaf, this county.

PARIS had another sensation Wednesday over a report that William Remington, of the Kentuckian-Citizen, Frank Lowry, agent of the United States Express, Bush Hart, hotel clerk, and Geo. W. Judy, City Collector, had been indicted by the Scott County grand jury for unlawfully detaining C. C. Moore, editor of the Blue Grass Blade. There was no truth in the report, but it is said the grand jury is investigating the case. Mr. Hart and Mr. Remington are well known in Maysville.

MENTION was made yesterday of the difficulty that occurred early this week between Mr. John C. Love and the editor of the Muncie, Ind., Tribune, resulting in the latter's getting the worst of it and receiving several serious cuts. The trouble originated over an attack of the Tribune on Mr. Love's sisters, Misses Nannie and Edith, teachers of the Muncie school. The charge made by the paper was that Miss Edith taught in the schools without being able to pass the required examination, and that she received exorbitant pay for little work. Mr. Love is well known in Maysville. He appears amply able to thump several obstreperous editors at one time.

STORMS ABROAD.

Great Britain Visited by a Destructive Blizzard.

A VAST AMOUNT OF SUFFERING.

It is feared that a number of lives have been lost, but full particulars can not be obtained as telegraph lines are down and railroads are blocked with snow—Other foreign events.

LONDON, March 11.—The snowfall continues general throughout Great Britain. In parts of the country, especially the mountainous regions of Cumberland and Wales, the snow causes considerable obstruction to travel. In London, owing to the chilly weather and the high price of coal, there is much suffering among the poor.

The Salvation Army shelters were all crowded last night, and hundreds had to be turned away. The demand upon the food depots and other centers of Salvation Army charity has seldom been as great as now. The problem of the London unemployed is becoming as serious as in Berlin and Vienna.

Reports from the north of Scotland show that the storm has done much damage to flocks and herds and it is feared that lives have been lost in remote parts of the country. The heavy snowfall appears to have taken people by surprise, especially in the Scottish highlands and mountainous districts of Wales. Large numbers of sheep have been chilled to death.

The telegraph lines in many places are down, and railroad trains are snow-bound, while the ordinary roads are almost impassable. Horse racing and other spring appointments have been postponed, and the whole country wears a wintry aspect. Reports of shipwreck along the Welsh and North British coasts have been received, but without definite particulars. The weather has greatly aggravated the suffering of the lack of coal, especially the northern manufacturing towns, where the poor had allowed their supply to run out in the expectation of genial weather.

Riotous Students.

PARIS, March 11.—A riotous scene occurred yesterday at the medical college at Lyons. One of the professors had made himself very unpopular, and the students went to the class room with the intention of thrashing him. He had heard of their purpose and remained away. The students smashed everything in the class-room and started to parade the streets, but were dispersed by the police.

The Grand Duke Recovering.

DARMS-ADT, March 11.—The Grand Duke of Hesse is displaying a vitality that surprises the physicians. He was expected to die at any moment yesterday. Today he is out of his comatose condition, and is conscious of his surroundings. He is able to take liquid nourishment. His paralysis, however, shows no improvement.

Love Match in High Circles.

BERLIN, March 11.—Prince Ernst of Saxe-Meiningen, brother-in-law of the emperor, is engaged to marry Marie, the daughter of the German poet, Wilhelm Jensen. It is a love match, and the couple are in Rome, safe from interference on the part of the kaiser or the reigning prince of Saxe-Meiningen.

Will Work Only Five Days.

LONDON, March 11.—The Lancashire miners have resolved that when they stop in the 20th of March it will be for a week and not for two weeks as first intended. When they resume work, however, they will only work five days in the week until further notice.

IS IT THE OLD PEG-LEG?

Two Miles of Almost Pure Gold in Sight, Runs the Story.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., March 11.—A party of prospectors has just returned here from a prospecting trip in the vicinity of Cottonwood Springs, 125 miles east of here, bringing with them about $1,000 worth of gold, almost pure, that they had taken from a decomposed quartz ledge that they had discovered twenty-two miles north of Cottonwood Springs.

They state that the ledge is visible for two miles over the mountain, and is rich in gold wherever it has been tapped. Several business men and about forty prospectors have left here, all headed for the new Eldorado. Since the discovery, which is the richest ever known in this section of the country, there have been several stories told, and nearly all old miners agree that the old Peg-Leg mine, which has been lost for years, and which was reported as fabulously rich, has been rediscovered. Several parties are outfitting here for the new mines.

New Orleans Lynching Recalled.

NEW ORLEANS, March 11.—A suit for damages was filed yesterday afternoon in the United States circuit court by the families of the Italians, the lynching of whom a year ago by infuriated citizens furnished a theme for world-wide account of international complications and threatened war by the Italian government. The petition is very lengthy, relating the details of the killing of the eleven men and asking $30,000 for each of the victims. Notice of the suit was served on the mayor of the city immediately after the suit was filed.

Now Wants to Be Governor.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 11.—Arthur Jenkins, president of the Tennessee Coal company, who is responsible, so the miners allege, for all the troubles in the Coal Creek and Priceville mines is a candidate for governor of Tennessee on the Republican ticket. He now has the miners and also the Farmers' Alliance with him. He is only twenty-six years of age, and a fighter.

A SERIOUS CRISIS

NEW YORK, March 11.—The last issue of The Iron Age says: Interest centers in the pig iron markets of the country, which are rapidly approaching a serious crisis. Our monthly blast furnace statistics show that we entered the month with the largest capacity at work on record, the total being over 193,000 tons per week. It should be noted, however, that there has been some closing down since the 1st, but as yet far from enough to check the piling up of stacks, which is going on very rapidly. Thus far exceptionally cheap money has helped producers to carry, but any change in the financial situation might cause a good deal of unloading.

Reports of low prices come from every section. In billets, Pittsburgh touched lowest water mark with a sale of 10,000 tons at $23.75. In the steel rail trade Pittsburgh records sales of 18,000 tons, the eastern mills figure up only 6,000 tons.

There has been some movement in beams in Chicago, where a very large amount of structural work is sure to come into the market.

Eastern bridge concerns have taken quite a number of good orders in the west and south, and eastern plate makers continue to capture the lion's share of the western trade. Iron and steel bars and shapes are pretty weak in all sections.

In the metal trade the rumors of negotiations among the leading Lake Superior and Montana producers to restrict the output constitutes the principal item of interest. There is some talk also of a consolidation among the brass and copper mills, who have been competing very sharply of late.

HARMONY AT HOME.

His Dead Body is All That is Left of Him.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 11.—John W. Harmony, thirty-six years old, a glass-cutter of Fayette City, attempted to murder his wife Wednesday morning, and failing in this he cut his throat with a penknife, dying in a few minutes. He arose in the morning and procured about a gallon of carbon oil, which he threw on his wife, who was yet lying in bed.

Harmony then dragged her by the feet to a grate in the room, and set her clothing on fire. Neighbors arrived in time to put out the flames and save her life.

Harmony then ran to the home of his father, a short distance away, and in the presence of his mother and sisters cut his throat.

The Harmony's are among the best families in Fayette city. Of late years Harmony has been drinking hard, and no other cause is known for the deed.

Want and Desire a Pension.

OTTAWA, March 11.—Laura Louise and Myra Gasta Smith, elderly maiden daughters of Laura Secord, who won fame at Queenstown during the war of 1812, by overhearing the discussion of the plan for the surprise and capture of a detachment of British troops, and revealing it after a laborious journey through an unbroken country, causing the capture of the American party, have petitioned the Dominion parliament for relief, being destitute.

OXFORD, O., March 11.—Burglars effected an entrance to the postoffice at Woods, O., a small station on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad, four miles from this village, taking $7, a revolver, several boxes of cigars and a number of other articles from the grocery which is kept in the same room. A number of stamps were not touched. Postmaster Urnston has a clew.

Millers Robbed.

ZANESVILLE, O., March 11.—While Mr. Aston, of Hook Brothers & Aston, millers, was showing a stranger his way, his pal entered the office and secured a large check. Several hundred dollars in gold was lying in another compartment of the cash drawer, but was not touched, the thief being frightened by the approach of Mr. Hook from the mill.
